

Of the several proposals made, I believe RM-10811 makes the most sense. It would combine the goal of making access to amateur radio less restrictive with maintaining a show of minimal skill levels in one of the basic communication forms. In emergency situations, the simplicity of CW equipment could make to the only viable communications mode.